

Kelly Keenan showed reining horses as a kid in California, working at a ranch to pay for board and lessons. As an adult, she worked for Mike Boyle in Ione, CA for five years, learning extensively about coaching Non-Pro riders and getting them and their horses prepared to show.

Most recently, she worked for NRHA Million Dollar Rider Jordan Larson at his ranch in Ione, CA for a year, learning the program and coaching Non-Pro riders.

She also has experience judging reining shows.

As a showman, Kelly has many titles including:

- 6 WCRHA Year End Championships, as well as various Reserve Championships and Top 5 awards
- NRHA Top Ten Limited Open award in 2018,
- 2 WCRHA Futurity Championships
- 2 WCRHA Derby Championships,
- 2017 Reserve Champion Reining By The Bay Level 1 Derby
- 2 Northwest Regional Affiliate Championships
- 2 North American Affiliate Championships Top Tens

Her coaching resume includes multiple Pre-Futurity Championships and Reserve Championships, one NRHA Non-Pro Futurity finalist in 2018 and two NRHA Non-Pro Futurity Finalists in 2019, among many local class wins, WCRHA Year End Championships and Year End Top Ten placings.

With a special passion for helping people and horses become great teams and achieve new levels of skill and refinement, she has also been a clinician in several clinics, including three WCRHA Rookie Day Clinics, and specially booked clinics in Nevada, USA and Pretoria, South Africa.

Kelly is absolutely dedicated to helping her clients reach their riding goals. She understands that rider and horse must become a team to be the best they can be.
